Dear Sirs,

With regard to the various communications received from you recently and which are enclosed with this letter:-

- a) the subscription to REALITY for the National English Literary Museum expires with the issue for September, 1987;
- b) the subscription for the Inkatha Institute is in the name of Miss G.S. Baker and expires with the next issue, that for March, 1987;
- c) we gave up accepting subscriptions through agents some years ago and no longer offer discounts to them. I imagine, therefore, that you would prefer not to handle REALITY subscriptions and that it would be best if the clients mentioned in the enclosed correspondence were to continue to pay their subscriptions direct to us.

Yours faithfully,

P.M. Brown.

for REALITY.
