Dear Jill,

Excuse the typewriter but my writing seems to be becoming steadily more illegible.

Marie had warned us that you had taken on the JASA secretaryship and felt that you must give up REALITY.

Thank you very much for your help over the last few years, particularly all you gave to Marie — and thank you for offering to go on helping her when she needs you. I am sure knowing that you are around will be a great relief to her.

Good luck in the JASA job.

With best wishes from myself and, I am sure, the rest of the board.

Alan
