Dear Peter,

I am sorry that I was unable to write to you before I went on holiday, but I only received your letter shortly before I left.

Thanks very much for the very generous donation, which I shall pay in monthly instalments as you requested. I raised quite a lot of money.

I spoke to Tony Connell about this, and learnt from him that he has often been approached for similar purposes, and I certainly have often been approached. We thought, possibly, of setting up a very informal fund and collecting some cash monthly from the twenty or thirty people who would be prepared to contribute so that we always have a ready float of money available to help out when needed. We thought of calling this the Peter Brown Fund, and we wondered whether you would agree.

I don't know when I will be down in Maritzburg, but there is just a possibility that it will be early in March. If so, I'll come along and talk to you about this and lots else.

With love to Phoebe.

Yours truly,
