Dear Peter Brown

Here is the penultimate draft of the Duncan biography. We have sent you a copy for two reasons. First you have been quoted in the chapters on the Liberal Party and Contact and we need your permission before publication. Secondly Jonty is very anxious to revise the final draft in the light of comments and suggestions he receives from about 20 or so readers to whom we have sent this. We are anxious not to make any factual mistakes and would be interested to hear what you have to say about his own interpretation of events. Would you mind very much returning the draft to us (you can scribble on it if you like). We will refund airmail postage.

I will remember with great pleasure that happy and useful day I spent with you in Natal when not only were you willing to answer what must have seemed naive and pedantic questions but also took so much trouble to ensure that I met people who otherwise I would have had no chance of meeting. Thank you for this and for the hospitality shown to me by you and your wife.

I hope you have a happy Christmas

With best wishes

Yours Sincerely

Tom Lodge
