Dear Jenny,

My apologies for taking such an age to answer your letter.

I am hoping Tony responded better and passed on the message that I had already had a letter from David Everatt and had replied to it.

I had to tell him that the Liberal Party 'archives' have already been made available to somebody else who is doing a sort of 'official' history, and so they would not be there for him. I did tell him, though, that if he wanted to come and talk to me, he should get in touch with me when he was out here. That might help a bit.

Yours sincerely,

Alan Paton
