Dear Jack,

Excuse the typewriter but my handwriting has reached such a level of illegibility nowadays that I try to avoid using it.

On the basis you set out in your letter I will be very pleased to accept the position of patron, but if you decide that you would prefer to have somebody who would be of more use to you locally, I won't be in the least offended if you change your minds.

Enclosed are some more minutes, which will give you some idea of how people in Natal are thinking.

Love to Beryl.

Yours,
