My dear Alan,

I have to-day written to Dorothy Maud and asked her to reply directly to you with the answers to your questions. I have no recollection of Ned Patterson's motion in the Synod of 1943, but you must remember that I would only just have arrived in Johannesburg and would be totally unfamiliar with the personalities of Synod.

Dorothy's address, in case you should need it, is St. Katharine's House, Wantage, Berks, - although I hope you will get her letter almost as soon as this.

I am glad to see that you are being very careful over accuracy. On the whole this is not a distinguishing characteristic of South African novelists and biographers!

Yours ever,

+ Trevor C.R.
