Your Grace

I have just heard from Alan Paton that he has had to change his plans and will not be returning to this country until later in September. I must therefore ask you whether Thursday 27 September would suit you as well for the launching party.

He writes, 'If you can't change it, don't worry' - which I take to mean that he would in that case return as originally planned, rather than that it doesn't matter if he isn't there!

We hope 27 September will be convenient.

Yours sincerely
