Dear Alan,

I am writing because a thought has occurred to me about your biography of Archbishop Clayton. We have got to know Canon Clement Sergel the new rector of St Thomas's Church, Camp Ground Rd Rondebosch. He is a delightful character - progressive, fearless and politically conscious. He knew Clayton intimately and has some absorbing anecdotes to relate. If you wrote to him to express your interest I'm sure he would provide some good copy - if it is not too late for inclusion in your book. I told him I would write to you. If you are interested the church address would do - the rectory is just behind the church.

How are you ? What a pity we meet so seldom and then so hurriedly. Cape Town is quiet and business slack. One sees more and more vacant shops even in Adderley Street. Apart from its odious ideology Nationalism has no idea how to run a modern economy!

Enid sends her love.

Best wishes
