Dear Dick,

1. I shall try to get hold of "The Spirit of Men".
2. I shall drop the story of the bishop strolling about in the nude.
3. No, Roy has never heard of the vellum scroll. What did Geoffrey do with the illuminated addresses from African congregations. Where are they kept now?
4. I shall drop any mention of flagellation
5. I shall try to get "Yes and Nay" somehow. I don't believe that Geoffrey's library exists any longer. I think the clergy of the diocese were invited to take what they wanted.
6. Your suggestion that after obtaining his B.A. in June 1907 he worked as a fellow and tutor from June 1907 to June 1908 seems very probable, but like so many things of those times, there is no clue whatsoever.
7. Thank you for the information about the gout.
8. I don't think I shall worry about any Minute Books. I did see the Capetown Diocesan Minute Books and there was almost nothing.

Thank you again,

Yours ever,
