Dear Ted,

Thank you for your letter of November 13th. Since I saw you I spent a couple of weeks in Johannesburg, and then went to Port Elizabeth and George. My chronology is now almost completed, though I must admit that the first forty years of it are very thin. It always astonishes me that Geoffrey was not made a Bishop until he was almost 49.

It was very fortunate that I met you, and it was more or less by accident. Geoffrey's last sermon at St. Anne's and his last evening with you form a very important part of my biography. It certainly was a very happy lunch that we enjoyed with Stewart and Molly.

Yours ever,
