The Rev. Michael Scott,

Dear Michael,

I have just written Chapter 18 of Clayton and nine of its foolscap pages are about you. Would you like to read them? I should like you to because you could correct me on questions of fact. The account is sympathetic to you, and I do not think you will be hurt by one or two observations, because you have made such honest observations about yourself already. I have just re-read "A Time to Speak", and have for it a high regard.

- Questions:
1. Is this really what happened to your Synod resolution? Was it sent to a committee, or was it voted upon?
 2. Did you get strong support from any of your fellow priests?
 3. Which poem did Clayton publish in "The Watchmen"?
 4. Did you think that Matthew Arnold said "A beast but a just beast"? As you will see, the ODOQ ascribes it to Anonymous

If you enjoy doing this, I can send you more.

Yours ever

Alan Peton
