Dear Mr. Paton:

I was on the point of completing a contract covering the Dutch language rights to your book when it occurred to me that the Boer South African market might present some complications.

Have you any ideas about this or will it be satisfactory to you if we complete the contract with a publisher in Holland?

The firm in question is Elsevier, in Amsterdam, and I understand they are one of the outstanding publishers. In all events, I shall be very glad of your advice.

Yours sincerely,
