My dear Arthur,

I am sorry that at this stage I am not able to make any substantial donation. You may not know that our money has almost come to an end and I have not yet, of course, received any from the new book. When this comes, I hope you will write to me again.

I am coming up on Friday for the Liberal Party Conference but I fear there will be no chance of going to Wilgespruit.

I am so sorry that you were disappointed with Montserrat's book. My own new book deals with the destruction of a home by the Immorality Act, but I doubt if you would find it offensive. I return to Botha's Hill on the 14th, and you will find us here at the Settlement if you come down.

I was very sorry to hear that Ds Meiring devoted a great deal of his lecture to repudiating a statement in my own lecture. I do not like to hurt people's feelings, but you may be sure that I would be very glad to give any support to an article from you. You are quite right in supposing that some of our friends are super-sensitive. Incidentally, I should like to know the paragraph to which you refer.

Yours ever,
