Dear Reg,

The Oxford University Press are now hunting for photographs with which to illustrate the biography and we want very much to include a picture of HOFFIE in camping kit. If he is wearing that old canvas hat, all the better. Have you got such a picture, and would you lend it to us?

I am hoping the book will be published in September. I think O.U.P. want to catch the Christmas market. The cost will be about R5.00.

When are you retiring, and are you still going to build that cottage in the Drakensberg? My advice to you is don't do it. You should come to live in Maritzburg where your old bones will be warmer.

Affectionate regards to you and Edith from us both.

Yours ever,
