Dear Leo,

I have reached Chapter XXXV, but, as you may guess, have had to suspend work again owing to the demands of the General Law Amendment Bill. It was a pity, because ~~the~~ interrupted one of the best spells of work I have had.

I have young David Evans working for me full time, and this is a great help. I reckon there are five chapters left to do. If I have another good spell, these should take three weeks each. I would then go to Cape Town and discuss the whole thing with you. I write now because I have heard that you are retiring at the end of the year and I am very anxious that it is you who should do the editing.

I will risk the opinion, supported by several readers, that the biography is nearer good than fair, but how good I would not care to say.

Love to you and Nell from us both.

Yours ever,
