Dear Bernth,

I have quite a few photographs that you will find interesting. Mail between us is so uncertain it is a risk sending them in the post, but it is one worth taking. With the exception of numbers one, three and four, I've limited the selection to those for which we have copies. As for the photocopy of a manuscript page, I'm afraid my papers are all at home in the village. So you'll have to be content with this recent leaf from Mandela.

I shall be at Yale in the spring. So get in touch. Meanwhile, when do we merit a special number of Research?

Yours sincerely,

J. P. Clark

P.S. The news of Bob's tragic death came while this was being put together. I have sent in a condolence to ALA. It's all very sad.
