5th November.

Dearest Phyllis,

Thank you for your copy of + Colin's letter, but most of all thank you for finding time + having thoughts about us.
We likewise have been thinking lots about you. I read a letter you sent to Solveig and indeed wondered how you survived so much with so much spirit.

We had news today that David de Beer will be in Swaziland from Dec 29th for a week or two. It would be good to see him again. I am sorry you didn't stay in Swaziland. We have lots of good friends there and I thought things might have suited you better there. In fact I sent you a Christmas card last year + asked Carol Gilley, in Mbabane to give it to you as I felt sure you would bump into one another soon enough!

I am working every morning running the Black Sash Advice Office. Solveig always has so much on her plate that she asked me to take over, although she is still Director and very much around — + very much needed. I get into all sorts of difficulties and even after a year still feel very ignorant of the laws + their loopholes. We are a good team + enjoy working together. Also, of course it is very useful being married to Christopher + fun doing things together, although I sometimes wish he worked for me on a more full time basis.

Our children are fine - Jessica in class II and Julie is at nursery school still. We try to prevent them from being insidiously indoctrinated by the wretched society that they live in and they sometimes surprise me with their awareness and sense of justice. In fact ~~it~~ the truth is that all children know ~~instinctively~~ ^{instinctively} what all about justice. But here whites become socialised away from their instincts.

How is your lovely little daughter? She must have had a terrible time when you were injured. So very frightening.

Christopher is very busy these days and I think, reasonably happy although I still think he will leave the Bar eventually maybe Black Sash will employ him?

How is work for you in Maseru?
Lesotho is such a beautiful place Phyllis, I often think about the mountains and the openness of it. I wonder if you find time to enjoy that part of it?

I hope this year my Christmas card will find you. And I'm hoping for a holiday in Lesotho next year.

Keep well, God bless,
Love Jillian.
