Dear Stephanie,

Your book, 'Women in Guinea B' has been loaned to me & while reading through I recalled an Mordant who wrote me nasty letters about repayment of a Texas loan - Cape Town  $\pm$  '67, '68, '69 or even later - Was it you?

This note is being forwarded to Susan Lear month. Last while nutrition worker in Masem - now in Washington D.C. Very good person - politically I'm not sure.

I feel strongly that your book should be a must in AWC O's. The problems you met are ours too - Your treatment of it I cannot but commend.

Speak to Johnny-M. in NY.

I would like a copy for myself - & to pass around here to both males & females - That awful male image you draw is alive & thriving in Lesotho - & I dare say in our own O's too - though it's not apparent for people like me - better still I don't have to contend with it - but I do know many who do. I would like many more than one - but my parcels are not usually tampered with & I certainly don't want another parcel bomb. Better still - Susan will know of folks coming here & it can be brought by hand.

I can forward cash for same or if you need something from here - a quid pro quo could be worked out

Betsy Schmidt - author of 'Canopying the Cades' was here - What is she doing now? 61

In confidence - Who what is Carolyn Long. I've met her twice - but she seems to jerry between her country & these parts fairly regularly - Does she have a SA visa? Is she OK?

If you write to Phyllis Reine, P.O. Box 1078, Masera, Lesotho - it should get to me. Don't put your known address (return) on the envelope - Give me a safe one + another name, & mark your letter ST. somewhere - so I'll know it's you.

Enclosed copy of postcard received yesterday to assist your nostalgia.

Take care.

Sincerely

Phyllis Reine
