My dear Khadafi,

How are you? It will be 2 whole weeks since I last saw you & already it seems a life-time. That stupid hat/cap, those solemn eyes struck in that face that bursts into a gorgeous smile. What have you been doing?

How was Sunday? Saying goodbye to so many here must have been awful. I can see you & John waving goodbye - even as I write.

My darling son, thank you for a lovely present - I have read it with tears. 'Agibaya' -

Things do not seem to be very hopeful here - The Asian problem so I was told - However there are some Asians with much model here & they're ok.

The intended partnership is not a happy one - My partner lives by the joys of the flesh & does not have a social conscience let alone a political one. However he makes no bones about it & he is prepared to those have a political membership & practice his sort of life.

You have not seen the Black Bourgeoisie They strike - Wages for Indura R20.00 payable 2 months in arrears. Maids (Subjects) R10.00 pm.

These folks are ragged, emaciated sit around the fire place - eating pap & a rabbit when they catch one The fruit & veges that around here are for sale - The milk of the cows are sold
They are drunk for as many days as their money lasts.

Ja Nthathe - I've not been able to eat here - On occasions the madam has called me to eat with her - She stands & prays over her food - not bad
- but her maid steals away with a bowl of pap & the gravy of the pan.
The joys of Christianity -
I wear you much love for luck. However if I am not allowed to stay - I shall push off. I don't want to go too far.
Snell ke sera sera
How is Miki? Has he been to see you.
I'm missing that God already. Do pop in to see Ruth from time to time.
I'm not sure that I said goodbye to her - perhaps it's because it is not so - I shall see you all very soon.
Do greet old Mombasa - he's a grand guy - in his grand Mercedes - How is Jo? & family? Buti? Kati?

Do keep well - Salami Kahle -

Love
Nyl.
