Durban.

Dear Mrs Naidoo,

I received a letter from Miss Sheila Weinberg. She has been telling me that you were in difficulties with regards to my position as you are banned. She told me that if I am not banned I can explain my position to you and reiterate any problem that I may have.

To start with, I finished the term of my imprisonment on the 31st March this year. I am not banned but deliberately frustrated. This is being followed by the deadlock of the interview that I had with police. The Labour Administration of East London is also denying my registration as residence of the city.

I have appealed to the Chief Bantu Commissioner at Bantu Affairs Department on this matter. I am now waiting for the results from the Bantu Headquarters in Port Elizabeth. While I am on the await, I am still battling for the the right to work. My position is known by my lawyers at Cape Town. I consulted Mr J.C. Hart who is attorney-at-law. through the letter I received from my Cape Town lawyers. He did not impress me he is not bold with law. He instead discourages me.

One of my major problems is transport at Mdantsane. I am staying with my brother. He has his family with him. Mdantsane is about fifteen miles away from East London. The means of employment are only available in town.

Mrs Naidoo the point I wish to stress to ^{you} is that I have been ~~an~~ ~~un~~ able to further my studies. This was due to the fact that an amount of about Ruro was detained at Victor Verster Prison in Paarl-South. I believe the of it was you. I received it at Robben Island. Then on the 5th April, I was transferred to Victor Verster Prison with it. On the 14th April I was told that the amount was from my relatives therefore they were detaining it.

I hope that I have explained some of my major problems to you.

Yours sincerely,
Britton Tsanga Malobola.
