

to share in what is available. There are people from all over the world in India, mostly seekers after truth, art lovers, hippies etc. I have written to almost everyone now but have received no letters at all from home. It is strange that I came here seeking peace but am more disturbed than ever - mainly because the responsibility of travelling alone & keeping Rajan happy & in good health is weighing down upon me. I have met some wonderful people out here we must discuss the possibility of coming out here & starting a new life - the potential are terrific in Bangalore. I shall tell you details on my return. With much love & best wishes for Xmas & New Year to you & children - regards to Zach & Louis. - Devi.
