

Dear Mrs Newdoo,

I received your sad letter, in deed it makes very sad reading, But may be things could have been worse, at least the children were not taken from you altogether altogether, I am very sorry to hear such news. But you must consider your husband too, you must realize that he too was worried over you and the children.

However as I do not know the full facts I cannot say much. We all have our troubles, I had mine I have been ill since last November the last illness was a very bad attack of Arthritis, I am still attending the hospital & suffer great pain, But everyone has worries, if not one way they have it another. that is the way of life and we have to try and accept these things, I am sure things will turn out all right for you & God they will, do not despair too much, it will not do you any good. you must consider your children so for their sakes do not despair I will pray very hard for you that all will be well. which I am sure they will, My sons some of whom are in England, and Canada are very anxious for me to join them over there on account of my been so ill, so I am going to them this week. I will be very glad to get a change, so as there'll be only my son and daughter at home here. there will not be any use writing until I get back home.

I dont know how long I will be away, But as soon as I get home, I will write to you. Again do not worry too much, all will turn out all right for you, Good Bye Good Bless.
