

I hope you don't think I am impolite or something.

Often I wonder if we ever will meet....

After two months of waiting (Nov. Dec) I finally got to know that I wasn't among those who were fired - 50%(!) of our personal had to go because of bad business in the building-sektor - and even could get half-time until April. (After that I will work till 15 pm)

Then I looked for a girl to help me during office hours with our little angel - and found one who needs practise to enter a nursing-school.

She is interested and gentle and Jaima loves her. Still she screams for joy when I come home and I feel like a queen!

Our winter has been mild - good with those oil-crisis-cold houses we have now!!

All our love and affection! Yours Jaina Jaima and Pelt
