My dearest,

Hello there! how do you do? I hope you are still doing fine over there.

It is now getting a little ^{bit} chilly here, anyway it can't be like there.

Thanks a lot for the sum of R10 enclosed in your last letter. Thanks also for the contents of your letter, you know I enjoyed every line. The kids are all right - they're growing healthier each day. Regarding D. I also hope she did not decide to join her friend J. otherwise she'll still be more frustrated through J's main friend.

Phil, I read of your Foster Mother's effort to return our brothers back with dismay, I'm disgusted. Well, well, let's talk about having some days or a week-end in July ^{with you} Will that suit you? Does Bas. still come there after? Coming with him could be ideal for me. I've got my document fixed up.

I wrote English, Business Economic & History last week, and am hoping for the best. I'm not yet sure when the results will be out as the exams will go on until end of June.

Yes my dear Children can give you a terrible headache when they are older - so I believe. We do not know what's in store for us with our young ones, who are still goodie goodies.

Phil I am very busy these days. I'm thinking of going to get enrolled for accountancy, Afrikaans and of course Zulu today. Our year starts in June now - that we write exams in the middle of the year. Salani Kahle nino Suku and all our friends staying with you.

he loved ^{M.B.} Deva come to see the rock once very well last month. I was too happy to meet him again.
