FOR WALTERIO.
MUNDUS LATINO

Its Sunday here -4.30pm. Its 9.30am in Havana. Good morning to you. When my friend from the US phoned me from Harare. He addressed me in Spanish - he had me spinning. Until he said its me BUD.

This serves to tell you that I miss you. Ive been listening to Louis Armstrong with my friend Bones and she thinks I am crazy. I loved every moment of last Sunday - He is singing Hello Dolly.

Finding Alex's grave; Songs in the Park, Icecream outside the cemetery - If I have more Sugar D from Cuba my doctor says I cannot go again - Thats what I call optimism. After leaving me at the hotel your surprise at finding me with David and Abel. Then the walk in old Havana with my favourite Cubans. Davids visit to his Haitian lady and our songs on the pavement while someone got his knickers in a twist over his "missing" son.

Here is our song - a few more words. See if you can get a proper copy.

I found my thrill on B.H. When I found you.....

The moon stood still on BH/ And it wasnt until my dream comes true - sounds wonky - you correct it.

The winds & the Willow place/Loves swell melodies

And all those vows we made were never to be.

Tho were apart youre part of me still. Oh you were my thrill on BH

Pardon the omissions.

Keep in touch. I hope your fax works. As soon as I get some cash I need some of your videos.

Maybe we shall meet again. If we dont, dont be upset we have enjoyed excellent friendship - Blueberry hill is playing. Sent you a tape with David's letter.

With much love. Thank you for all your kindness to me. I shall not forget you.

Love

Phyllie
