16th January, 1997.

My dear Cheryl,

Several attempts to contact you have been unsuccessful.

I am at a loss to understand why I was paid sick leave for December 1997. Sick leave should have ended in November.

The arrangement that a fax will be given me and that I would be kept abreast has not happened. On the contrary anti-apartheid friends (3) phoned the office (TRC DESK) and were told that I have been pensioned.

I do not have the energy for disputes, I am ill and in my 70th year, kindly accept my resignation.

Sincerely

Phyllis Naidoo
