

Young Christian Students

. . .in the struggle for justice

Danie Coetzer, Alexandra, June 1976

One day, the good Samaritan came too early. The victim was not quite a victim yet — the victim was resisting. The good Samaritan saw the process of oppression, not just the crime. He saw two sides in conflict, and he wanted to love.